

Dear Librarian/Library Acquisitions Committee:

I recommend that the library set up an institutional free trial to Oxford Bibliographies Online in order to assess its suitability for teaching: _____

(list course title)

OXFORD BIBLIOGRAPHIES ONLINE (OBO)

Oxford Bibliographies Online combines the best features of a high-level encyclopedia and a traditional bibliography in a style tailored to meet the needs of today’s online researchers. Oxford Bibliographies Online entries constitute an entirely new type of born-digital content, conceived and developed in the editorial offices of Oxford University Press with the advice and counsel of an international group of scholars and librarians.

I believe that Oxford Bibliographies Online will greatly enhance our existing collection for the following reasons: (check all that apply)

- Great relevance to my work/research/study, and that of my students and colleagues
- Large relevance to the work/research/study of faculty students/colleagues in other departments and that of my students and colleagues
- Other _____

FEATURES OF OBO

- Broad range of subject modules from Buddhism to Criminology make this essential for all research libraries
- Every subject area has an Editor in Chief and Editorial Board, ensuring scholarly accuracy, relevance, and authority
- Each subject launches with 50 – 100 entries – the content equivalent to a 4 volume print encyclopedia
- Each individual entry is a guided tour through the key literature on a specialized topic, moving from the general to the specific, with scholarly annotations and context-providing introductions, making research faster and easier than ever before
- Updated quarterly, with 50 – 75 entries added per year to each subject area, as well as revisions to existing entries, guaranteeing that Oxford Bibliographies Online is the most up-to-date resource of its kind
- Each entry receives multiple peer reviews and Editorial Board vetting to provide authoritative and balanced coverage

Free Institutional Trial Available Now

Thank you for your consideration.

Name: _____

Position: _____

Department: _____

Course Title: _____

Number of Students: _____